

John Ridilla

John Ridilla was born and raised in Parma, Ohio. He graduated from John Carroll University with a Bachelor of Arts in History and was commissioned in the Infantry as a 2nd Lieutenant in the United States Army. He served in a variety of command and staff roles in the 25th, 24th and 2nd Infantry Divisions, Recruiting Command and the National Training Center.

After his retirement from the U.S. Army, Mr. Ridilla worked as the SAP Education Coordinator and then as the Manager of SAP Production Support for IBM Storage Technology Division in San Jose, California. After the sale of this division to Hitachi Global Storage Technologies, Mr. Ridilla led the Information Technology Supplier Management Team and then became the Information Technology Program Manager for the Chief Information Officer.

Mr. Ridilla earned a Master of Science in Administration degree from Central Michigan University and is a graduate of the Marine Corps Command and Staff College in Quantico, Virginia. This is his first publicly elected position.

Since 2010 John has resided in Rio Linda with his wife Sue, their dogs Roxie and Thor, and their cat Apollo.